MSN Ranked Most Affordable Online Program

June 5, 2019

Georgia Southern University's School of Nursing's Master of Science in Nursing (MSN) with a concentration in chronic care management was recently named the most affordable online nursing master's program by the SR Education Group.

To be considered for the ranking, schools were required to be regionally accredited and offer at least one fully online degree. The SR Education Group has published rankings on online colleges since 2009.

The MSN program with a concentration in chronic care management is designed for individuals who currently hold a Georgia RN license and wish to gain further education and skills to evaluate chronic care conditions across the lifespan with a specific focus on those affecting clients of managed care eligibility. The program is 36 credit-hours, includes 270 applied clinical hours, and is designed to be completed in two academic years.
